(China Press Service)

Canton, Jan. 16.—Chen Chiung-ming, Commander-in-chief of the rebel Kwangtung troops left here for Huichow (Waichow), at 7 o'clock last night. Chen's hasty departure was due to the uneasiness of his troops and the demand of his lieutenants that he should quit Canton.

Gen. Liang Hung-kai, Commander of the 1st Division, Chen Tsang-fu, Commander of the 3rd Division, and Chen Yi-chang, Commander of the Aviation Corp, who were Chen Chiung-ming's staunch supporters, have issued a circular telegram, stating that Gen. Wei Pang-ping has been elected to maintain the situation in Canton and requesting that Dr. Sun Yat-sen confer authority on Gen. Wei.

Large numbers of Chen Chiung-ming's troops were transported by the Canton-Samshui Railway from Samshui to Canton en route to Huichow yesterday. The troops pillaged Saikwan (western section of Canton city) last evening and a panic was created among the populace.

A section of the Canton-Kowloon Railway was bombed today by the citizens' militia with a view to preventing the retreat of Chen Chiung-ming's forces to Huichow by the railway. Traffic on the line has been interrupted.

JOFFE ARRIVES FOR SHORT STAY: IS IN POOR HEALTH

Soviet Envoy Met By Guard Of Honor And Officials At Station

Mr. Adolph A. Joffe, Soviet Envoy to China, arrived in Shanghai last night and was met at the North Station by representatives of the Chinese authorities here, a guard of honor comprised of General Ho Feng-ling's troops, and delegates from Russian organisations here. Mr. Joffe and his part, which includes his wife, five-year-old son, and two secretaries, Messrs. Levin and Schvarsalon, are stopping at the Palace Hotel.

Mr. Joffe is very ill and was attended by Dr. Blumenstock at his hotel as soon as he reached there, the physician having been summoned from the station. The Soviet Envoy is suffering from a nervous breakdown and the after effects of a severe attack of influenza and appeared to be a very sick man.

Of medium height and thick set, Mr. Joffe has the appearance of one who was in the diplomatic service of the Old Russian Government. He never served his country as a diplomat, however, until the revolution came in Russia. He holds a degree as doctor of international law and is an able linguist.

He took an active part in the revolution and became internationally famous for his part in the negotiations which brought about the treaty of Brest-Litovsk.

He was the first Soviet Envoy to Berlin and was later vice chairman of the Soviet Delegation to the Genoa Conference, acting as Tchitcherin's confidante and advisor. When the Genoa parley broke up, Joffe was appointed the first envoy to China from the Moscow Government, arriving in Peking last Fall, remaining there until he left for Shanghai, with the exception of a short trip to Changchun for the Conference in October.

The Soviet Envoy was met last night by representatives of the Bureau for Foreign Affairs, the Chinese Admiral, General Ho Feng-ling, the Russian Central Union of Consumers Societies, the Rosta News Agency, the Soviet Commissariat for Foreign Trade, and the Russian Volunteer Fleet, and the captain and a detail from the Admiral Zavoiko, the Soviet military yacht, which is anchored off the Chinese Bund.

Mr. Joffe will remain in Shanghai two or three days before going to Hongkong and Macao.

DYER IS ASKED TO PROD CHINA ON OVERDUE OBLIGATIONS

American Chamber Is Tiffin Host To Congressman

HE PROMISES AID

Urged To Ask Conversion Of Boxer Fund

The China Trade Act, refunding of the balance of the Boxer indemnity, the collection of debts owed to Americans by the Chinese Government and other problems of vital interest to all Americans in China were thoroughly discussed at the tiffin given in honor of Congressman L. C. Dyer of Missouri, godfather of the China Trade Act, by the American Chamber of Commerce at the Union Club yesterday.

Mr. J. Harold Dollar, president of the Chamber, made the recommendations of the Chamber for further constructive work in Congress, in introducing Congressman Dyer, and the Missouri representative, in replying, pledged his hearty support to assist in the upbuilding of American business and American prestige in every possible way.

The suggestions, which have received the support of both the Chamber of Commerce and the American Association, would have the United States return the balance of the Boxer indemnity to China to be expended under the supervision of an American committee to insure that the funds would be used for educational and not military affairs; congressional or diplomatic action in assisting American business firms to collect between $50,000,000 and $60,000,000 owed by the Chinese Government for purchases of various kinds; and the apointment of the strongest and most able men possible on the commission which is to study the Chinese judicial system preparatory to the relinquishment of extraterritoriality, and the commission to revise the Custom's revenues.

DOLLAR'S SPEECH

Mr. Dollar's introduction, in full, follows:

"It is needless for me to say that all commercial interests in China are glad to welcome Mr. Dyer back to China. Although we are not residents of Mr. Dyer's home district in St. Louis, we all feel he is really our representative in Congress, because of the great amount of work which he devoted to the China Trade Act in our behalf. We are perfectly frank in stating to you, Mr. Dyer, that we do not believe the China Trade Act could have ever become a law had you not devoted so much of your time and energies to it.

"Although the Act has not been in force long enough for us to be able to express an expert opinion regarding its workings, we do know that it constitutes the legislative foundation for a new development of American commerce in this part of the world.

"It is now more than two years since you were in China, and in view of the fact that you have returned to investigate the American trade situation here, with a view to introducing further legislation in Congress for the development of commerce between this country and the United States, I am sure you will be interested in a brief recital of some of the activities of the American Chamber of Commerce of China.

"Last October we held a meeting in Shanghai of representatives of the American Chambers of Commerce of Hankow, Tientsin and Peking, and formed a central organisation representing all American commercial interests in China, which is known as the Associated American Chambers of Commerce of China. We hope that this has placed us in a better position to make our voice heard in Washington and in commercial circles in the United States.

"Although you come to China with instructions from President Harding, Secretary Hughes and Secretary Hoover to investigate matters arising under the operation of the China Trade Act, we are going to take advantage of the great opportunity presented to us by your presence, to acquaint you with a number of other matters

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Owing to American dissatisfaction with the British terms, the British and American debt commissioners have failed to reach an agreement and the negotiations have been adjourned until tomorrow.

Meanwhile the British commissioners are cabling to London seeking further instructions.

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Jan. 16.—The Anglo-American debt-funding negotiations have revealed divergent views relative to the rate of interest and the length of the repayment period.

—Marcus in N. Y. Times

The Americans consider the British suggestion of a rate of 3 percent too low, while the British want a longer period for repayment than the half century proposed by the Americans.

There is some doubt whether an agreement will be reached before the British leave for home on Saturday.

Frenchtown Ratepayers Elect Their Councilmen

Messrs. Albert Chapeaux and W. J. N. Dyer, members of the French Municipal Council seeking election yesterday were returned to their seats, both men receiving flattering endorsement from the voters. Of the 576 ballots cast, Mr. Chapeaux received 463 with his British colleague but two votes behind.

Other members of the 1923 Council in the Concession are Dr. E. Tartois, of 12 Rue Moliere, a former member of the Council; Mr. Francis Schwyzer of Arnhold Bros. and Company, and Mr. H. H. Sheridan of the Standard Oil Company, the American nominee. Unsuccessful candidates for seats on the Council were Messrs. C. A. Stiebel and Dr. A. Vallet.

Messrs. F. Sallou, Ch. Barriere, Vyvyan Dent and J. M. Tavares, who were unopposed, were elected Land Commissioners.

There was little excitement at the polls and but 576 of 1,205 qualified electors, less than half, cast their ballots. Three ladies attempted to vote but were told by the authorities that equal suffrage had not yet invaded the French Concession. One lady ratepayer of the Concession received a vote for Councillor but this ballot was declared void.

The polls were open from 10 o'clock yesterday morning until 6 o'clock last evening and a dozen scrutineers finished the counting shortly before 7:30 o'clock when Consul-General A. Wilden announced the results of the election to some 25 who gathered in the Municipal Hall.

Messrs. Chapeaux, Dyer, Schwyzer and Dr. Tartois are elected to two year terms while Mr. Sheridan is to serve one year.

The usual election joker was in evidence and fifteen residents of the Concession were given from one to six votes. Mr. Gordius Nielsen received a vote as did Messrs. Noiron, Baude, Boyes, A. E. Ongetta, R. Neut, Dent, A. Bayol, J. J. Bell, J. Leyssen and V. Gironi. Mr. J. M. Cholliot was given three votes for the Council while Mr. A. Vandelet had six.

Extra! Handcart Coolies And Etc. Must Have Mirrors

Don't be surprised if merrily ricshaing along to work in the near future you pass a handcart piled to the sky with chicken crates, bales of turnips or other freight with one coolie perched up on top of the tower of goods deftly turning a mirror hither and yon.

They may have to have 'em!

Discussing traffic regulations at the last meeting of the Council—read the Municipal Gazette out today if you're skeptical—it says: ". . . it is directed that consideration be given to the suggestion that vehicles drawing trailers or towing other vehicles should be required to carry some distinctive sign and that freight vehicles be provided with mirrors enabling drivers to see clearly behind."

And that's that.

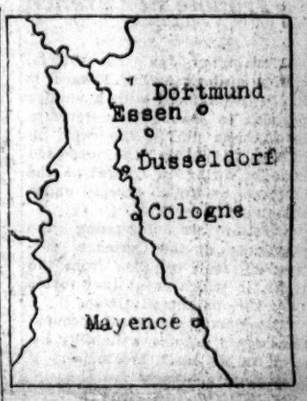
LOCAL BODIES GREET DR. SUN FOR SUCCESS

Sixty Delegates Waited On Him Yesterday; Urges Self-Determination

Over 60 delegates representing various Shanghai local organisations waited on Dr. Sun Yat-sen at his home yesterday and conveyed to him their congratulations for his success in Canton. Speeches were delivered by Chao Nan-kung and Huang Chung-han, representing the local bodies.

In reply, Dr. Sun emphasised the importance of the spirit of self-determination among the Chinese in order to make China enjoy administrative and territorial autonomy. He stated that the Southern militarists under Chen Chiung-ming had already fallen and the fall of the Northern militarists was in sight. All that was necessary for the people to do to assert their rights, he said, was to perfect their organisation and make their voices heard.

Dr. Sun recalled the fact that he had no arms or territorial sphere to carry out his revolutionary campaign against the Manchus; but he succeeded by creating a strong public opinion and secured the faithful support of the people.



DORTMUND, latest important German city to be occupied by the French, is 50 miles northeast of Duesseldorf, and is the chief commercial center of Westphalia with a population, before the war, of 175,000. It is one of the most picturesque survivals of medieval cities in Germany. In the immediate vicinity are extensive beds of iron ore and large coal fields and the town is a competitor with Essen in the steel and iron industry. It is the center of an extensive system of railways and is connected with the river Ems by a long canal.

Dortmund withstood a siege for 21 months when the French occupied the city in 1806 and in 1808 it was made over by Napoleon to the Grand Duke of Berg and became the chief town of the Department of the Ruhr. It became a Prussian town again through the cession of Westphalia by the King of the Netherlands in 1815.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Jan. 17.—Under the requisitions, the first trainload of coal was dispatched today. It is understood that it was originally intended for Bavaria but was diverted to the West.

(Reuter's Service)

Brussels, Jan. 17.—The Ministry of Defence has received a report that some persons fired on the Belgian detachment guarding a bridge in the Ruhr. The troops replied. It is not known whether there were any casualties.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Jan. 17.—A semi-official statement says that as a result of Germany's latest defaults, the French and Belgian Governments have decided to collect immediately on account of the Allies the coal tax up to the present imposed by the German Government. Italy associates herself with France and Belgium.

The three Governments are considering other penalties and preparations are being made for control of State forests and the establishment of a Customs line around the Ruhr is being considered.

Berlin, Jan. 17.—A German press telegram from Duesseldorf describing the meeting between the French military authorities and the German industrialists says that though the latter were informed that they were liable to criminal prosecution if they persisted in their defiant attitude they all declared that they must maintain their present standpoint.

(Reuter's Service)

Paris, Jan. 16.—The Matin foreshadows the making of the Ruhr and the Rhineland into a buffer State in the event of continued German recalcitrance.

There is already talk in the press of taking hostages among the businessmen and high officials in the occupied territory.

The French attitude has considerably stiffened in consequence of German obstructionism. There are signs that the occupation of the Ruhr is likely to become less invisible and less purely economic and that German resistance will meet with very visible military pressure.

Occupation Costs To Exceed Arrears

(Asiatic Agency Wireless)

Berlin, Jan. 16.—The cost of the Franco-Belgian occupations of the Ruhr valley, even if the accounts are kept within actual expenditures will exceed, within four months, all arrears of coal and timber deliveries claimed by France. This fact has occasioned much bitterness in the German press.

The Association of Ruhr Valley Industries has declined to accept help offered by French authorities in case of wage disputes. They say the good-will of foreign troops who entered the Ruhr valley by force is painful to them and French agitation never would succeed in persuading German workmen that financial necessities justified French violence.

The Krupp Corporation has announced its preparedness to keep open the Essen works for its workmen but not for the sake of the French, although the ability to do so depends entirely on the attitude of the occupation authorities.

Washington Sees Trouble For French

(Reuter's Service)

Washington, Jan. 16.—Official circles anticipate that France is likely to be faced with a similar position to that of the Germans in Belgium during the war, in failing to derive the expected benefits owing to refusal of the laborers to work except under compulsion.

Officials are discussing the possibility of the Germans cutting off food supplies from the Ruhr, in which event they forsee very serious complications.

The French army of occupation would become a liability instead of an asset to France.

Mr. Cunningham, who was present, expressed his willingness to gather the data and compile it in reports for the members' information, but not for publication, and the Chamber voted to accept the offer with thanks.

Castro got the $150 but the Chinese didn't get the stalls so he sought assistance from the police, and the Spaniard was arrested by Detective Sergeant Quayle of Wayside station.

At The Carlton

The Golden Gate Quartette, brought out from San Francisco by the Carlton Cafe management, made their initial appearance at the Bubbling Well Entertainment palace last night, and scored a great hit. They were welcomed by a gathering that comfortably filled the new Carlton's capacious ball room.

The quartette, consisting of Warren Tehaney, Roy Collins, Frank Shaw and Med Anderson, lived up to all advance notices, and those who heard them last night were glad to learn that they are to be here three months. The boys brought out some new songs that pleased the big audience immensely, and in addition they sang some old favorites that proved even more delightful. The singers were ably assisted by Joe Aronson's orchestra.

The quartette appeared first in the Carlton dining room, where they were heard to even greater advantage than in the ball room, due to the better acoustics.

Judged by their initial performance these singers are going to prove one of the most appreciated entertainment features ever introduced here and their presence at the new Carlton will go a long way toward making that establishment even more popular than it has already proven itself.

NEW TARIFF IN OPERATION; WILL BOOST REVENUE

Rates Are 5 Percent Higher Than Old Schedules

China's new tariff—revised by the Tariff Revision Commission which met in Shanghai last year—went into operation yesterday and all custom's duties will hereafter be based on the new schedule. The new tariff is five percent higher than the schedule formerly used, and is expected to increase the Custom's receipts from $8,000,000 to $10,000,000.

When the commission ended its work here a provisional date was fixed for the application of the tariff, but there was some delay in ratification of the tariff by the various nations represented on the Commission. Italy's approval was the last obtained and it reached Peking on December 31, a month later than the date fixed for the new tariff. As fourteen days' interval was necessary after the publication of the Customs notification, the official date was fixed for today.

Instructions regarding the application of the revised schedule have been made public by the Inspector-General of Customs. They read:

1. All shipments to China made prior to the January 17 are to pay duty under the old tariff.

2. By "all shipments" to be understood "all goods" placed on board ship.

3. The Customs will accept as evidence that the goods were placed on board ship prior to January 17 the fact that the Bill of Lading is dated January 16, or earlier, together with a certificate from the port authorities at the port where the vessel was loaded to prove that she arrived at that port prior to January 17, or such other documentary proof of this fact as seems sufficient to the Customs.

(China Press Service)

Peking, Jan. 16.—At a meeting of the National Finance Commission yesterday, it was resolved that the Customs Surplus should be applied towards the consolidation of the sinking fund for domestic loans. Any balance of Customs revenue after China's internal loans have been consolidated, is to be appropriated for the consolidation of the sinking fund for the $96,000,000 Exchequer Loan and placed under the control of Sir Francis Aglen, Inspector-General of the Maritime Customs.

With regard to China's foreign debts, the Commission proposes that the two and a half percent surtax to be secured later should be assigned for the service of foreign loans.

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 16.—The Times, dealing with the enforcement of the effective 5 percent Chinese tariff, points out that normally the Chinese market is second best for all cotton goods manufactured in England.

This relative position is not maintained at present but there are hopes that British exporters will soon overcome the competition they have met since the War.

The extra tariff will strengthen the position of all Chinese bonds, the service of which is met out of the Customs revenue.

SAH CHENG-PING NOMINATED FOR FUKIEN OFFICE

Wang Yung-chuan Favors His Appointment To Check Admiral Liu

Foochow, Jan. 17.—On the question of the appointment of the Governor of Fukien, General Wang Yung-chuan, commander-in-chief of Fukien Forces, has addressed two telegrams to General Hsu Shu-cheng, who was instrumental in causing the downfall of ex-Tuchun Li Hou-chi. After pointing out the fact that General Hsu Chung-chi is preparing to return to Kwangtung on account of the fall of Chen Chiung-ming, General Wang urged the necessity of rehabilitating the Fukien affairs and proposed that Admiral Sah Cheng-ping be asked to supersede Lin Shen as governor of the province in order to check Admiral Liu Kwan-hsuan.

General Wang further entertained the hope that General Hsu Shu-cheng would continue to show his interest in the Fukien situation despite his departure from this province and formulate plans for its salvation.

In reply, General Hsu Shu-cheng stated that he did not show any partiality towards either Lin or Sah, but asked General Wang to give the matter his mature consideration by weighing carefully the cons and pros of the two men and not to rely on the advice of his immediate surroundings.

Arrested while asleep in a ricsha on the Bund Tuesday afternoon, a Russian named M. Matoff, one of the refugees, brought here by Admiral Stark's fleet, appeared before Assessor Blackburn and Magistrate Yui of the Mixed Court yesterday on the charge of being drunk and incapable.

Matoff admitted being drunk but submitted that he had not caused any trouble. He had obtained $2 by selling his overcoat, he said, and spent 70 cents of this for a bottle of Chinese spirits. He had only 50 cents on him when arrested, but said that he had left the other 80 cents at the place where he was staying, 116 Sinza Road.

The Court found the accused without means of making a livelihood and ordered that he be turned over to the Chinese Police with the request that they make arrangements for his maintenance.

THRIFT WEEK 1923 — THE AMERICAN-ORIENTAL BANKING CORPORATION — THRIFT WEEK 1923

Make A Budget Day

For effective conduct, a carefully-considered, well thought-out plan is necessary. It is not only the mariner that needs a chart and compass, nor the architect or builder who must follow his blue print—each one of us needs a program of action conceived in our best moments but to be followed in our worst.

A budget is merely a scheme of finance, personal or otherwise, by which all possible items of expenditure are considered in relation to the expected income and given their due proportion. Make out yours for 1923 today.

American Affairs In China Discussed By Chamber Of Commerce At Dyer Tiffin

affecting American business interests at this time.

CHINA TRADE ACT

"The first matter that we desire to bring to your attention is the China Trade Act, and to urge upon you the necessity of certain amendments which we believe necessary to make the Act of the greatest possible advantage to American business in China. We are working on the assumption that the China Trade Act is but a beginning and we are to keep up our efforts if we are to catch up with our strong rivals who have been on the field for a longer period than we have. The British Government, for example, has enacted a whole set of regulations controlling the development of British business in this part of the world, and a published set of their regulations would fill a good sized library shelf. You will see therefore that you have a considerable job ahead of you if you are going to include China in your Congressional District. We have had a special Committee of the Chamber, composed of Messrs. Seitz, Fesseden and Powell, working on the matter of amendments and additions to the China Trade Act, and their recommendations will be presented to you before you depart from Shanghai.

"The other matters which we desire to bring to your attention arise through the carrying into force of the various treaties and resolutions adopted at the Washington Conference. The first is the matter of Extraterritoriality. You are probably familiar with the fact that the American Government made a treaty with China several years ago whereby we agreed to relinquish our Extraterritorial rights when China has developed a judiciary system which we feel would provide ample protection for American interests. Other nations have similar treaties.

"At the Washington Conference a resolution was adopted providing for an international commission of jurists to visit China in the fall of this year for the purpose of makng investigations. Since the relinquishment of our extraterritorial rights is a matter of tremendous interest and importance to every American citizen residing and having property in this part of the world, we want to urge upon the Administration the importance of sending to China a man of the very highest qualifications in order that he may be both competent and free to make an impartial investigation of this subject, which will carry weight with the American Government.

CUSTOM'S REVENUES

"The next matter which we desire to bring to the attention of the American Government is the Special Tariff Conference which is to be held in China this spring, in order to revise the Chinese Tariff. Practically all of China's foreign financial obligations are secured upon the revenues of the Maritime Customs, and as a result the Customs is administered largely by European nationals holding the obligations. Since the revision of the Tariff will result in China's receiving additional revenue, we believe that this offers an opportunity for placing American obligations and finance in China upon a surer footing than is now the case. For this reason we are also recommending that our Government send to China the strongest possible commission to represent the interests of our merchants upon the Conference which will revise the Customs revenues.

"The Chinese Government, owing to the unsettled political situation, has defaulted upon American loans and obligations for equipment supplied to the extent of probably Mex $50,000,000 or $60,000,000, and unless the United States Government pays closer attention to the situation here we are afraid that American business will be entirely eliminated from this field.

"There has recently been organised at Peking a Committee, representing American creditors of the Chinese Government, chiefly American firms that have sold materials to the Chinese Government, and for which no substantial payments have been received for more than a year. This Committee has compiled a tremendous amount of information dealing with the financial situation in Peking, and we hope, Mr. Dyer, when you go to Peking, you will be able to get in touch with that Committee and study their activities, as you can assist American interests considerably by furthering their work. Mr. Carl Seitz, a member of this Chamber, is planning to accompany you to Peking in order to help you in any way possible in obtaining information on matters which you may be interested in.

BOXER INDEMNITY

"Another matter which we desire to bring to your attention is the refund of the balance of the American share of the Boxer Indemnity, which we understand amounts to about $15,000,000 in American currency.

"The total amount of the American share of the Boxer Indemnity was approximately $24,000,000, but in 1906 the American Government returned $10,000,000 of this, which China has used in the education of her young men and women in American colleges and universities. This policy we believe has been of tremendous benefit both to China and the United States, and for this reason we believe that the balance of the Indemnity should be returned to China for educational purposes.

"We believe, however, that the return of this money should be accompanied by a very definite understanding with the Chinese Government covering the expenditure of the money, possibly under the direction of an American committee, in order that we may be assured that it will be used for the purpose intended, and not used in military adventures. We also believe that the return of the balance of the American share of the Boxer Indemnity offers an opportunity for the American Government to enter into a definite understanding with the Chinese Government covering American financial obligations in this country, to the end that we may have protection such as that given by China to other outside nations.

ARMS EMBARGO

"Mr. Dyer, as you are probably aware, China is now in a serious condition owing to the unsettled political stuation. At the Washington Conference friendly nations did everything possible to help China in the organisation of a stable government. In addition to the action of the various nations at the Conference, the American Government has itself done practically everything possible to assist in the reunification of the country. One special matter in this connection is an American embargo upon the shipment of arms and munitions of war into China. This regulation is being strictly enforced, and we are hoping that other nations will take similar action, to the end that Chinese people may settle their internal affairs in their own way, without outside interference, as speedily as possible.

"Our Government also have a well established policy that no American loans be extended to China for political purposes. This policy meets with the hearty approval of the Chinese people, as well as of the American residents in this country, and we trust our Government will maintain it.

"There is a number of other matters which our Committee will probably bring to your attention before you leave, but this is sufficient to give you some idea of how we intend to take advantage of your welcome presence here.

ALL CO-OPERATE

"In addition to members of the American Chamber of Commerce of Shanghai, we also have present today the officers and many of the members of the American Association of China—the oldest American organisation in this part of the world. The activities of the American Association are along the same lines as those of our own organisation, except that the Chamber is naturally more interested in purely business questions. The two organisations are co-operating fully upon all the matters which we have presented to you today.

"Mr. Dyer is so well known to the members of the American Chamber of Commerce that it is hardly necessary for me to say anything about him in the way of an introduction. Mr. Dyer is a member of several important committees in the House of Representatives, where he has served for many years. He was re-elected recently, and is without question one of the most influential members of the Lower House of our Congress. I am sure that all of us will be glad to hear from Mr. Dyer."

DYER SPEAKS

"I am extremely pleased to address such an audience as you gentlemen—and ladies," Congressman Dyer added as an afterthought as he noticed Miss A. Viola Smith, Assistant American Trade Commissioner, and Mrs. Fred Patstone were present. "At home we are interested chiefly in politics at such gatherings while you gentlemen are interested purely in trade development and establishing America's good name in China.

"I learned of the splendid work you were doing several years ago, and after I came to China and saw what was being done I returned to Washington determined to assist in any way I could in the good work. As much as is desired has not yet been accomplished, but what has been done is due chiefly to the efforts of this organisation. Mr. J. B. Powell rendered very valuable service, and Mr. Carl Seitz has been of inestimable value, especially in getting the China Trade Act through the House. In the Senate, of course, it was a different matter. Some years ago Mr. Victor Berger, the Socialist congressman from Milwaukee, introduced a bill which would have abolished the Senate—and his bill had my hearty approval. He has now been re-elected, and I hope he'll reintroduce the bill. It was because of the ignorance of conditions out here that we found in the Senate that we have to be content with what we have, but the general opinion of the country is progressing to a point where it is realised that the United States owes a duty to its foreign commerce and to you who have blazed the trail out here, and in the future we expect to get complete exemption for American businesses in China, and exemptions on Americans in China paying the income tax.

WASHINGTON'S VIEWS

"Secretary Hoover, in fact, has already come out in favor of exempting all Americans in foreign trade. Mr. Hoover is one of the big, broad-minded Americans and is doing everything he can to further American interests and American commerce. President Harding is also very sympathetic

RUSSIAN COUPLE GIVEN SENTENCES AS SHOPLIFTERS

Man And Woman Jailed For Theft At Sincere's

Two Russians, a man and a woman, were sentenced to imprisonment and subsequent deportation for shoplifting by the Mixed Court yesterday. The couple were Alexander Kudrin, 32 years old, previously convicted of shoplifting and ordered to leave the country in October, 1920, by the Russian Minister, and Anastacie Koochishova, 28, whose husband has been convicted of shoplifting in Tientsin. The man was sentenced to one year in prison by Assessor Blackburn and Magistrate Yui, and the woman to three months, both to be deported thereafter.

Evidence was given by Detective Sergeant Macgregor, who effected the woman's arrest after the man had been apprehended by employes of the Sincere store, where he had stolen two rolls of satin, valued at $142.50. The officer stated that investigation showed the couple had arrived in Shanghai Tuesday morning from Tientsin and booked a room at the Y. P. S. hotel. In the afternoon they went into the Sincere store and while the woman was making purchases, the man, who was a few yards away, put the two rolls of silk in his pocket. They were followed outside by employes and Kudrin was arrested. On being informed the police went to the Y. P. S. hotel but found that the woman had gone, removing the luggage. Detective Sergeant Macgregor located her in a Russian dwelling house at 398 North Szechuen Road.

Questioned, the woman denied that she went to the store to assist her companion in the theft. She said she left the hotel because she feared she might be implicated and that she had come to Shanghai on business and to consult a doctor, bringing about $400 with her. Det. Sergt. Macgregor stated that she only had $48. Her husband, the defendant said, was in Tientsin, a second hand dealer. She admitted that he had been sentenced for shoplifting.

Kudrin said he wished to make a statement regarding his return to China after being deported, but the Court declined to hear it and imposed sentence.

Refugee Ship A Charnel House

(Reuter's Service)

Athens, Jan. 16.—A veritable death-ship has arrived at the Piraeus from Samsoun, Constantinople.

Of 2,000 passengers, 600 were stricken with typhus, small-pox and cholera, including two doctors out of three.

Thirty-five passengers died and were buried at sea and 25 more died in harbor. The Greek health authorities have ordered the bodies to be burned in the ship's furnaces.

The Government has barred the admission of further refugees until the epidemics are under control.

Manchester Firm Awarded £500 In British Court

Judgment for £500, interest and costs was given Tolson and Chinsnall (Manchester) against L. Walker and Company (Shanghai) by Judge Peter Grain in the British Supreme Court yesterday.

Mr. Langley Smith appeared for plaintiffs, the defendants did not put in an appearance.

A letter was put from Mr. Teesdale advising liquidation and the closing of the office as soon as possible. The claim was for £500 for which the defendants had drawn on the plaintiffs in Manchester and 7 percent interest from July 3 and costs. The money had not been repaid, and Mr. Walker, who was now in London, had wired "Inform Hansons negotiating direct Tolson." Notice had been given that legal proceedings would be instituted and a writ issued unless repayment was made by December 28. Nothing further had been done in the matter.

Counsel added that Hansons were trying to adjust certain large contracts which had been made by Tolson and Chisnall with Walker and Co.

The Judge thought there was very little chance of the plaintiffs getting their money, when they heard about defendants going into liquidation and desiring to close the office as soon as possible.

Judgment for plaintiffs, with costs.

CHINESE BAR BOY HELD ON CHARGE OF KILLING HURLD

Portland House Employe Haled Into Mixed Court By Police

As a result of the death of Bernard F. Hurld, young American engineer who succumbed at the General Hospital Saturday from the effects of a blow on the head, Voong Ah-tsho, bar boy at the Portland House, 13 Seward Road, was charged with manslaughter in the Mixed Court before Assessor Mead and Magistrate Loh yesterday.

The Chinese is accused of fighting with Hurld and with causing the injuries which brought about his death. When the case was brought up Inspector Cruickshank requested that it be remanded for hearing by the American Assessor and it was therefore continued until this morning.

Police investigation yesterday developed no further facts in connection with the fatality, other than to further confirm that there was an altercation between the Chinese boy and the victim. The possibility remains that the young engineer may have been attacked and struck over the head between the time he left the Portland bar and the time he visited the Astor bar, where he exhibited the wound.

SHANGHAI INTERPORT TEAM GOOD

Selection Committee To Be Congratulated, Says "Whistle"

MEN CAN SHIFT

Many Players Able To Play In Several Positions

BY "WHISTLE"

The team selected for the Hongkong games will be received with interest, and the first remark which should be made is one of congratulation to the Selection Committee on the excellence of their selection; they have chosen a combination which should do honor to Shanghai, and may be trusted not to let us down either at soccer or in other ways, and it should be remembered that other things besides football have to be borne in mind when selecting an Interport Team.

The choice will not of course satisfy everyone, such a result is literally impossible, but so long as criticism is well-informed and reasonable, the Selection Committee would be the last to object to it.

One point which is important, but may not appear at first sight, is the interchangeable character of the team. Quayle, Wilson and Knight can play in almost any position should, injuries necessitate a change, and therefore have an extra potential value in any side.

Obviously one of the first noticeable points is the omission of certain players who might quite reasonably expect to figure in the team. Wade, of course, would be in were he able to get away. Brown's name has been mentioned a good deal, but he has still to overcome liability to miskick on a windy day, and certainly could not distance either Quayle or Turner. De Mann on this year's form looked reliable and our own selection would have been Crawford, Mears and De Mann for the first string halves. Tordy and J. Guttierez for outside left have been suggested and they are both good enough, but Tordy could hardly hope to displace either Coulcher or Goldman and while Guttierez is a fine player at outside, that is his only position while Wilson can do other things, beside.

One thing has been commented upon, viz., that four Club forwards have been picked, but this appears a sound move. Coulcher, Goldman and Phillips have played steadily together, they understand each other, all are unselfish, and play fine football, and it is hard to see how the inside wedge could be improved upon.

Past experience has shown that Shanghai selected teams have been disappointing in the attack, because though individually good, the forwards not combined.

For the same reason, Dailey is a good selection at outside right; it is doubtful whether he is as fast as F. Guttierez, but he understands Phillips and is a beautiful center besides being a robust player.

It looks a sound combination from every point of view and if it does not bring back the flag, we feel pretty sure no other available combination could.

Italian Premier Never Misses His Fencing

(China Press Correspondence)

Rome—Premier Mussolini, despite the great amount of work before him, and the long hours he spends each day at his desk, finds time every morning to indulge in his favorite pastime of fencing. For one hour after breakfast he crosses swords with a famous professor, and only a few days ago when his companion, tired from his exertions showed signs of faltering, Mussolini took on two of the professor's assistants for the remainder of the hour.

He is one of the best amateur swordmen of Italy, and has fought innumerable duels in which there is no record of his ever coming out second best.

JAPS WANT LOCAL NINE TO MAKE TRIP

Gallop Asked To Bring Baseball Team Over Next Summer

MEETING SOON

Annual Session Will Start Campaign For Funds To Build Stands

A definite offer has been received by Manager Herby Gallop of the Shanghai Amateur Baseball Club, from Japan for a trip through Nippon late next Summer, just prior to another visit of American big leaguers.

Herby did some negotiating while he was in Japan a couple of months ago and renewed acquaintance with Meiji and Kelo mangers, who are taking the lead in the move to bring the Shanghai team over. Already plans are being made to bring Herb Hunter and the Major League men out again and Herby's men would be on tour a couple of weeks before the team comes from the United States. At least that is the wish of the promoters.

It is much too early to talk about the proposition but Shanghai has a baseball reputation with the Japanese, says Herby, and if possible he is going to pull the trip over.

Gallop looks forward to a strong team to clean up everything in sight here next season before starting the journey to the Land of the Rising Sun. He expects to have John Scott, Bud McHenry, Sidney Moss, Doc Swann, Mal Maloney and Read Hager as slabmen to carry his nine through the season and a University of Pennsylvania catcher has arrived in town, planning to stay a year. Another.

and told me to study the situation out here carefully and that he would give all possible assistance to seeing that we got the amendments we desired when I returned. He wants our nationals here to have the same advantages that the nationals of other countries have—then we need have no fear of the ultimate result.

AMERICAN SHIPS

"The splendid ships now operating under the American flag are a great help in developing our commerce—they have put the United States on the map on the Pacific—and they will stay there regardless of whatever congressional action is undertaken.

"The distance from Washington to China is great, we have had troubles of our own at home—but affairs are in much better shape now, and more attention is being paid to American interests in China, and commerce generally. The Washington Conference especially assisted us in changing our ships from those who fight for war to those who fight for trade."

Congressman Dyer was loudly applauded when he said that while the Republicans wanted President Harding to run for re-election Secretary Hoover should be elected president in case Mr. Harding refused, and was again applauded when he said that because of the interest shown by members of the Chamber in Washington a big mistake was averted by officials there. "I refer to Judge Lobingier," he said simply.

Mr. Dollar, in thanking Congressman Dyer, said he was convinced the Americans in China knew they had a good friend in Washington in the Congressman from Missouri.

Dr. W. T. Findley, president of the American Association, spoke briefly pledging the support of the Association in the measures outlined by Mr. Dollar.

LEAVES SATURDAY

Congressman Dyer, in answer to a question asked by Mr. C. W. Atkinson of the Standard Oil Company, concerning naval craft more able to cope with conditions on the Yangtzse, said that the matter had received his attention and that he would talk with Secretary Denby about it when he returned to Washington.

Congressman Dyer, accompanied by Mr. Frank Rhea, American Trade Commissioner, and Mr. Carl Seitz, will leave on Saturday for Peking where he will hold conferences with Chinese officials and gather more data. They will be accompanied as far as Nanking by a delegation of twenty members of the Chamber who will be entertained by Nanking commercial bodies.

backstop is expected, while Wall and Jack Smith will be here.

Harry Kingman, Jerry Thatch, Freddie Bills and Walter Holliday are fixtures in the city while there will be a wealth of material for the outfield. The Foreign Basketball League has uncovered several baseball stars who reached Shanghai just as the season was waning last Fall and who were a bit shy at showing their wares late in the season.

Several Manila players desire to come here next season, the Fort Mills team painting such a picture that Manager Gallop has received several letters asking if men can secure positions in Shanghai. The Fort Mills crew have been great boosters for Shanghai and thus the demand for jobs here from players on the Manila Cits and one or two Army teams.

The annual meeting of the Baseball Club will be held shortly when Secretary Jack Smith will make his report and a campaign started for funds with which to build the new stands.

Admiral Line Gets Freighter "West Jester

The allocation by the United States Shipping Board of steamer West Jester to the Admiral Line, will increase that line's freighters to seven. The West Jester, which has been seen in China waters before, has been laid up in Seattle since March, but now is planned to dispatch from Seattle for ports in the Orient next March, it is said. A 100 per cent white crew is to man the steamer as a result of the Admiral Line's decision to remove Chinese crews from its ships and to employ as many Americans as possible.
It also is reported in shipping circles that the Admiral Line's freighter City of Spokane, which also has been seen in Shanghai before, but which has been laid up at Seattle since April, is being placed in condition. It is understood that the City of Spokane will resume her run between Seattle and ports in the Orient.

Russian Revolt In Urals, Repo

(Reuter's Service)

Helsingfors, Jan. 16.—According to a report from Moscow, it is officially stated that an extensive White conspiracy has been discovered in the Urals and West Siberia.
The Social Revolutionaries, Okulitch, Chichevsky, Ostrovsky and Kuhare, members of the Central Committee of the organization which aimed at the establishment of a non-Communist republic, M. Nesnamof Karasin the military leader, and over three hundred others have been arrested.

Foreign Trade Expert Arrives At Vladivostok

(Reuter's Pacific Service)

Vladivostok, Jan. 9.—M. H. N Kantor, president of a special commission appointed by the Government at Moscow to deal with questions concerning the Department of Foreign Trade, has arrived in Vladivostok to handle economic matters. All other representatives of economic departments, including MM. Niepomnaschtchy and Levin, who arrived previously, are subordinate to him.

M. Kantor will decide all the most important economic questions which come before the Revolutionary Committee. He has received orders to put into practice the various economic practices which so far have merely been talked about as theories. It is his declared intention to carry out this operation very carefully and gradually so as not to destory the economic life of the country.

On his arrival, M. Kantor told the local authorities and the representatives of economic departments that, if they tried to put their theories into practice too quickly, they would destroy everything. He has, moreover, told M. Levin not to talk too much and to refer all serious questions to him. M. Levin has recently been talking a great deal to press representatives and airing views which, in M. Kantor's opinion, are liable to do more harm than good and do not give correct impression of Moscow's aims in connection with foreign trade.

TO REDUCE CUSTOMS

Steps have already been taken by M. Kantor to reduce Customs and railroad tariffs and he has given instructions to the Customs authorities to the effect that certain special privileges may be granted to private firms if warranted by circumstances but these cases must be referred to him for decision.

Free trade has now been established throughout the interior of Russia and Siberia, including the Far Eastern Province, but all operations in imports from abroad and exports from Russia must be recorded with the Department of Foreign Trade.

The Commission of which M. Kantor is President, has offices in Moscow, Omsk and Vladivostok. Part of their duties is the organisation of railway transport and they intend to establish direct communication between Vladivostok and Moscow by way of the Amur Railway. Passenger expresses will soon start running from Vladivostok to Chita along the Amur Railway, the trip taking five days. When this service has been properly established, it is intended to start a direct express service from Vladivostok to Moscow.

RAIL OBSTACLES

There are naturally a number of obstacles in the way of frequent and rapid service on the Amur Railway, such as shortage of locomotives, lack of fuel in Habarovsk and beyond, and the bad state of the permanent way, but the Commission anticipates that these obstacles will be surmounted within a short period.

Hitherto most of the grain consumed in the Russian Far East has come from Manchuria but one of the new experiments which M. Kantor's Commission intend to try is that of introducing Russian grain to replace the Chinese grain. Manufactured articles, however, will continue to be imported from abroad.

It is intended to open a Government Bank in Vladivostok, which will attend solely to the financing of private and semi-private commercial and industrial enterprises —an institution which for some years past has been badly needed here.

The state of martial law, hitherto existing throughout Far Eastern Russia, has been abolished and all criminal and other offences will now be dealt with by the civil National Courts.

U. S. RUBBER MEN ASK RETALIATION AGAINST BRITISH

Plan Afoot To Acquire Plantations In Brazil; To Import Chinese Labor

(Reuter's Service)

London, Jan. 16.—The New York correspondent of the Times says that American rubber manufacturers are seeking to have the Government retaliate against the British restriction of the output of rubber.

The United States Tariff Commission stated that it was not empowered to act on the theory that Britain was discriminating against American importers but it considered that investigation would disclose other defensive possibilities.

Mr. Harvey Firestone, the President of the Firestone Tire Company, recently consulted President Harding with regard to a scheme for acquiring rubber plantations in Brazil to be worked with imported Chinese labor. The plans have now progressed to a point where the question of supplying the laborers with rice is being investigated.

Representatives of British interests, who are said to control 70 percent of the world's output in rubber, have arrived to confer with American manufacturers. It is reported that they will arrange to modify the situation with regard to exports from British colonies.

Bavarian Fascisti Plan An Outbreak

(Reuter's Service)

Berlin, Jan. 16.—Political circles are professing themselves much alarmed at the development of the Fascist movement in South Bavaria, the propaganda of which organisation in favor of a dictatorship is stated to have been enormously aided by the occupation of the Ruhr. The Fascist leader, Herr Hitler, is credited with endeavoring to effect a general rising. The Frankfuerter Zeitung gives the date, January 20, for the coup d'etat which Herr Hitler is contemplating.

The New House Of Commons

(New York Times)

STATISTICS reported from London by The Associated Press of the occupations of members of the House of Commons certify to remarkable changes in the composition of that body. The Reform bill put political power in the hands of the middle classes, but the aristocratic tradition was steadily maintained. Indeed, one may say that it is maintained in Mr. Bonar Law's Government, which is about as rich in peers, if not in dukes, as the most patrician Cabinets of the eighteenth century. In his "History of the Unreformed Parliament," Walter Bagehot quotes a calculation made in 1813. Of the 658 members of the then House of Commons, 300 were returned by peers, 187 by rich commoners and the Government. Thus a large majority was nominated "by noblemen and gentlemen." Of the thirty-six British Prime Ministers, from Sir Robert Walpole to and including Lloyd George, twenty-five, Mr. Bigham tells us in "The Prime Ministers of Britain," "have been the sons of peers and eighteen heirs to a peerage." The purple "public schools," Eton, Harrow, Westminster, and so on, produced twenty-eight of them. "Seventeen went to Oxford, thirteen to Cambridge, and one to Edinburgh University."

Even under middle-class rule, the tradition was not broken until Lloyd George's time. Various occupations were represented, more and more, and the number of lawyer members grew; but the House remained largely a "club of gentlemen." The first Labor members were regarded with much the same curiosity as if they were inhabitants of the Zoo. Since 1918 the "lower" middle classes hold the preponderance of power. The surest road to Parliament is to be a trade unionist. In the present House there are eighty-three officials of trade unions and fifty-seven trade workers. Lawyers, whose number and influence in Congress and State Legislatures have so often been deplored by our reformers, number eighty, about a surviving third of long robe candidates at the polls. There are thirty journalists and authors. For them France is still the parliamentary paradise. There are twenty-five merchants, the same number of teachers, only twenty-two land owners; alas, for the twilight of the territorial gods! Eleven modestly described themselves as "farmers." Here farmers are the sacred political class.

The engineers are better represented than in our Congress; there are twenty of them. There are only seven brewers and distillers. That profession, here fatally tainted, is perhaps strongest in the "Baronage." "Company directors," who would here be called "tools of Lombard"—the London Wall Street—are forty strong, and there are eleven bankers and brokers, another dangerous class. Mr. Borah and Mr. La Follette will notice with horror that thirty shipowners are "Parliament men." There are also thirty-seven unprotected manufacturers. There are six contractors, nine doctors, two "housewives," and only one clergyman. What would our pacifists say if there were in Congress, as there are in the House of Commons, forty-six army and navy officers? The trade union group is the most impressive. "Damn me, if I had to begin life again," said that chief of hunkers, Lord Eldon, a hundred years ago, "I would begin as an agitator."

A lotta these flossy boys with marcelled locks fix it that way so they'll look nice over the weak-end.

Grover Clark, who indites a clever column in the Peking Leader, has just given thought to the following catching verse:

PEOPLE

I used to think—oh, many things:
Among them that grown men were kings
And always wise and strong and true
And knew just what was best to do.
But now I know they're quite like me
(With good and bad all mixed, you see).
They're wise and foolish, sad and gay
And changeable from day to day,
In fact, they're very human.

I used to think—nor had a doubt—
They every woman was without
A single thought but of how she Might gentle, kind and loving be.
But now I know they're like us men:
A little willful now and then.
They're often angels, but I'm glad
They're sometimes just a little bad.
In fact, I'm glad they're human—
Most lovable and human.

The loudest and most prolonged applause at Congressman Dyer's speech at the American Chamber of Commerce tiffin yesterday came, strangely, when he was asked whether American ships were to stay dry.

"I don't think there's any hope of changing the prohibition laws of the United States at the present time," Mr. Dyer replied, "and I hope there's to be no change in China any time."

Mr. Dyer, it might be said, comes from St. Louis.

China In 1922

SHANTUNG

As to Shantung, in some respects at least, 1922 should be written in red. The Japanese soldiers and gendarmes scurried home, the Japanese postoffices were abolished, Tsingtau was restored and the Shantung Railway began its journey back to the bosom of China. Honesty, however, compels one to point out that the restoration is political and in no real sense economic; Japanese economic interests in Shantung will probably gain rather than lose by the transfer. Nevertheless, China's progress towards the full recovery of all her rights in Shantung has been very real.

Not only did 1922 resurrect the Shantung rights but it also put a very heavy responsibility upon the shoulders of the Chinese. What will the Chinese make of Tsingtau? Will they let the railway become a feeder for the pockets of the insatiable militarists? The delays, the bandits outrage and the political bickerings connected with the tranfer do not inspire one with an excessive amount of confidence. But 1922 distributed golden opportunities with a bountiful hand.

In purely provincial politics we can also record somewhat of an improvement. In the first place, once more does Shantung have a civil governor: Hsiung Pao-ch'i, a military man, a political "wolf in sheep's clothing" as it were; but it is probably better to have two military men as governors, even if one of them is dressed in civilian garb, than to have one military governor.

CHRISTIAN ELECTED

After a whole year of quarrelling between the Military Governor and the Provincial Assembly over the speakership, Mr. Sung Ch'uan-tien, a Christian, was elected the other day as Speaker. Were it not for the fact that Mr. Sung make a liberal use of money many would rejoice at this recognition of a member of the Christian community.

The movement for federalism, or "provincial autonomy," manifested itself in the form of clamoring for the appointment of officials who had been born in Shantung. Dr. C. T. Wang was opposed, in part at least, because he was not a Shantungese, while on the other hand the appointment of Hsiung Pao-ch'i as Civil Governor and Mayor of Tsingtau was acquiesced in because he was born within the province, at Tsinningchow. The "autonomy" movement as far as it relates to a provincial constitution made little headway, probably because all eyes were turned upon Tsingtau.

Of bandits and rumors of bandits Shantung had more than enough. During May for a while the express trains did not make the trip between Hsuchow and Yenchow at night, but waited either at Hsuchowfu or Yenchowfu till dawn. And this in spite of the fact that the south-bound express took on regularly at Tsinan a whole carload of armed "coolie-bandit-soldiers." Outside of the Leased Territory the robbers terrorised the Chinese population by playing "hop-skip-and jump" over the boundary. If the Chinese pursued them, they crossed over into the Japanese preserve; when the Japanese troops came to dislodge them, they had just crossed over into Chinese territory. Finally, in his marvellous capacity for compromise the Mayor of the Open Port has taken 700-900 of these "gentlemen" into the ranks of the forces that are to protect and police Tsingtau and environs. On the whole, however, the bandit situation seems to be improving.

CONTRACT FOR DYKES

Another matter of political interest is the letting of the contract for its repairing of the Yellow River dykes in the vicinity of Li Ching. The contract was given to an American firm, the Asia Development Company, for $1,500,000. A year ago the firm offered to do it for $950,000. Although it took him more than a year to close the deal, Tuchun T'ien deserves credit for getting the dykes repaired in a modern fashion.

In 1922 Shantung made substantial progress in education. Tsinan was a veritable Mecca for educators, both Chinese and foreign. During the first week of July three national educational associations met in the provincial capital; and there have been held two conferences since that time. These meetings together with the speaking campaigns of Professors Dewey, Monroe and Twiss have left a visible impact, showing itself in an improved morale and a new determination to improve the schools.

Not only government education, but missionary education also made commendable progress, in no small part due to the findings of the foreign commission on Christian Education. The most notable and the most visible result was the formation of "The Shantung Board for Christian Education," which aims to unite the lower schools and the middle schools of all the missions in the province and Shantung Christian University into one correlated system.

The material expansion of Shantung Christian University is another item worthy of notice. During the year three new buildings, a library and administration building and a theological building, were thrown open for use. Moreover, a beautiful Gothic chapel was begun and practically completed. Finally, it was decided by various bodies that the Peking Women's Medical School is to unite with the University Medical School.

ECONOMIC PROGRESS

From an economic, commercial and industrial point of view Shantung made some progress. Bountiful crops of wheat, cotton and kaoliang together with an unusually heavy yield of peanuts helped the Shantungese to forget rapidly the ravages of flood and famine.

The year's trade was about normal. However, the cattle trade, centering in Tsingtau but extending pretty well over the province, deserves special mention. Although at times in certain places the bandits interferred more or less with business such interference did not reach serious proportions, except in and around Tsingtau toward the end of the year.

Aside from petroleum and milling machinery the Americans captured but little of the province's trade. Tsinan, however, is becoming quite a milling center and a considerable amount of American flour-mill machinery was sold and installed. German business is on the increase, especially in dyes, electrical goods, bicycles, etc. A German firm secured a large contract to extend and enlarge the Tsinan telephone system.

With the exception of the enlarging of the "Lu Feng" cotton mill and the Japanese sugar refinery and the establishment of a Portland cement plant, Shantung's industrial development was largely confined to Tsingtau, Sifeng and Tsangkou. In Sifang and in Tsangkou, the Japanese were operating or building seven large cotton mills which when completed will have more than one million spindles. There was also some expansion in the match and vegetable oil industries.

In connection with this brief survey of the economic conditions a mention should be made of the province's good roads. The Red Cross roads have been allowed to fall more or less into disrepair. The Wei Hsien-Chefoo road, however, promises to become a first class modern highway. There is already a regular and efficient auto passenger traffic between Wei Hsien and Wanghsien, and the roadway is being kept in excellent repair.

RELIGIOUS PROGRESS

When we come to the religions of Shantung, the most outstanding fact is the lessening of the hostility and the indifference to Christianity. There were slight signs of a recrudescence of Confucianism and something like a revival of Buddhism, under the leadership of Mr. Mei, the Public Procurator of the province. The anti-Christian movement, reached Shantung, but it has little permanent effect. The leaders of all three movements will have to confess, "O Nazarene, Thou hast won!"

Among the Christian forces of Shantung the past year saw a steady advance. One of the noteworthy features was a conference in Tsingtau of the independent Chinese churches of Shantung and of Chihli. Although still young this movement is slowly making itself felt. The Y.M.C.A. and the Y.W.C.A. are steadily forging ahead and winning the confidence of the better classes. The Y.W.C.A. has developed to the point where a second foreign secretary is needed and is about to arrive. The Christian students have formed a Student Volunteer organisation for the province.

In a religious survey of this sort one should mention the "Theological Seminary of North China" which began its permanent work last autumn in Tenghsien. The institution attracts the attention of people because it stands definitely and aggressively for a conservative, one might almost say an ultra-conservative theology, and represents a reaction against the more or less eclectic theological systems taught in the other leading theological schools of North China.

So all in all, with its "ups" and "downs" during the year of 1922 Shantung made creditable progress.

PURE MILK

Editor, THE CHINA PRESS:

Dear Sir: It makes no difference whether the dairy farm is owned by Chinese or foreign residents in China. The milk must be pure and free from any undesirable foreign body. Inspection must be made by competent veterinarians and a veterinarian must show his diploma and certificate. Thus the public will be insured against malpractice. The competent Chinese and foreign veterinarians ought to have the same voice and authority in Shanghai settlement. Rules and regulations must be such that there will be:

1.—No tendency leading towards monopoly under the mask of official supervision.
2.—No partiality in inspection.

I read Mr. Ellwood Varney's translated article in a Chinese paper about the unsanitary conditions of a certain foreign-owned dairy farm. It is awful. I feel that his criticisms are very frank and very impartial. It is useless and foolish to be sentimental and prejudiced against the Chinese, while some of the foreign-owned dairy farms do not know what sanitation is. For the health of both Chinese and foreign residents in Shanghai Settlement, I, as a veterinarian, feel that it is my duty to say something. I am sure that the fair-minded readers will approve my statement.

Sores from Wrist to Elbow

"Completely Healed"

Our portrait is of Mr. John Kidd, of 17, Mill Lane, Kilmarnock, Scotland, who writes: "My right arm became covered with sores from wrist to elbow and was useless for over two years. I tried different ointments and so-called cures, but they never did me any good. Then I tried your 'Clarke's Blood Mixture,' and the sores soon began to heal up and power began to come back to my arm, so I persevered with the Mixture, and after having four bottles am glad to say my arm is completely healed up and I have now the full use of it." In a further letter over a twelvemonth later Mr. Kidd writes: "I have had no return of my complaint; my arm is still as sound as a bell and never troubles me in the least."

REMINGTON TYPEWRITER PROGRESS

Forty-eighth Year of the Organization's Business Life is Made Memorable by Announcement of the Improved Self Starting Remington for Office Use, and the New Remington Portable.

Within the last few months the Remington Typewriter Company has made two noteworthy contributions to typewriter progress.

First, is the improved Self Starting Remington, the sum of 48 years of experience in the manufacture of writing machines. Second, is the wonderful Remington Portable which fits in a case only 4 inches high and is especially designed for the traveling man, field engineer, author, minister, school boy and girl and in fact anyone who has casual writing to do.

The crowning triumph of ... ing Remington is the quality of its work. It is not only beautiful in originals and carbons but it is consistently good under all circumstances. The checks against every kind of mis-operation are so complete that the machine seems bound to turn out good work no matter how operated. The improved Self Starting Remington is a machine for the expert but not the expert alone. It is certain to have exceptional popularity with the student, beginner and the novice, because it helps them to turn out good, acceptable work from the very outset.

The fact that the Remington Portable Typewriter has the standard keyboard has already insured its exceptional popularity. It has the same number of printing keys, same size, same arrangement, as any standard machine. This means that from the operator's standpoint it is exactly like the standard machine. The user of a standard machine has nothing new to learn and the user of a Remington Portable has nothing to unlearn.

Already many thousands of these latest Remingtons have been sold and everywhere the buyers are enthusiastic. All agree that the Improved Self Starting Remington and the Remington Portable set new standards of efficiency in the two most important fields of typewriter service.

People Whom Nature Trusts

BY GARRETT P. SERVISS
(Eminent Astronomer and Authority on Subjects of Scientific Interest)

I told last Summer of my bee-charming friend in Amsterdam, N. Y.—frankly, I take a personal interest in her halo since she is a cousin of mine, in the second generation—and now I have a letter recounting new instances of what some would call sympathetic understanding and friendly trust between her and the little inhabitants of the world o' wings. I like to record these things, because I don't like the mechanistic view of the animal world. If the lower creatures are nothing more than chemical engines, then we, too, are only chemical engines, with a little additional craft in our make-up, and that I don't believe at all.

"Had a lot of fun this Fall," writes my cousin, "with some honey-bee workers. The early frost just about killed the flowers, so I had a number of bee friends, who came to be fed on pears. They became very tame. Two of them let me rub them while they were eating. One stopped for a second and turned its head, looking at me; then went on eating. Their little hairy bodies are just like velvet.

"Also there was a cute little yellow-jacket. And one day one of those long-legged black wasps that I have never cared much for wanted to wash its face after eating, so flew up on one of my glasses and sat there, washing its face!

"My latest friend was a bird—a starling. You know them? A good-sized bird. Found him one morning in the garret, flying wildly around. I opened a window and by noon he had gone. He was there again next morning. He wasn't so much afraid, flew around a bit, then on a line, then down on the floor, walking around. I opened the window, stepped aside, and out he went.

"The next morning I heard a noise up there, and there he was, trying to fly through the glass. He would not get away from the window. Sat on the upper part of the window sash while I looked at him and rubbed him. Also sat there while I raised the window, with him on the sash. Then I shoved him off and he waited nearby until I had it fixed; then flew out. Marion thinks that in some way these creatures feel that they will not get hurt."

I may add that the animal-charming power (if it should be called so) of my cousin, is very well known to all her intimate friends. It seems mysterious because it is not often seen in operation, but I have no doubt that every normal human being possesses the germ of it.

Its basis is an open, unprejudiced, friendly, character, loving all nature, without guile and consequently without suspicion—the kind of character that put St. Francis in a lofty niche of the world's history. But it is a delicate flower which does not rejoice and freely flourish in the poisonous social atmosphere that man has created for himself. Those in whom it blooms best are those who live closest to unsophisticated nature.

A most remarkable example of an unclerical St. Francis, who could charm birds and bees, and even make friends of flowers and stones, walked the New England highroads and bypaths in the time of my earliest boyhood—Henry David Thoreau. Robert Louis Stevenson has painted him at a stroke:

"In his dealings with animals he was the original of Hawthorne's Donatello. He pulled the woodchuck out of its hole by the tail (most country boys will tell you that it is difficult to get within ten rods of a live woodchuck); the hunted fox came to him for protection; wild squirrels have been seen to nestle in his waistcoat; he would thrust his arm into a pool and bring forth a bright, panting fish, lying undismayed in the palm of his hand."

But Emerson has best described the wonderful sympathetic relation between Thoreau and wild nature: "He was especially happy in forecasting spring. . . . Some years he was fortunate enough to detect in the morning twilights a peculiar roseate tongue, or halo, the smood of Spring herself, and even her outline in the peculiar light of the moon as reflected from the higher hills and mountains. He always felt (insensible to us) the coming heat fluent between the earth crust and branches."

To those who do not know these words of Emerson may seem extravagant, but whoever consumes enough with nature is aware of their truthfulness.

Do You Welcome Chances To Help Others?

BY J. J. MUNDY

If you have made a success along some line and have learned by hard knocks some of the shoals to be avoided, why not be manly and human enough to give some other man the benefit of your knowledge and experience?

This man may not have the same stamina that you have; he may give in easier.

Advice from you might mean success to him.

Help from you might save him from failure.

Why be so self-centered?

When you see an opportunity to do a good turn for another person, do it.

A good word from the right source means a whole lot to some man or woman.

Do you ever stop to think how little you have done, ever, in this world?

Think it over.

How many persons have you aided, in any way?

What have you done for anyone other than your wife and family, whom the law says that you should love and cherish and protect?

Mighty few deeds of this sort stand to your credit. Isn't it true?

Prohibition In Japan

(Christian Science Monitor)

Mrs. Ochimi Kubushiro, heading the Japanese delegation to the international convention of the W. C. T. U., at Philadelphia, is wholly sanguine of a not-long-delayed success for prohibition in her Oriental country. She admits that, with her as with Prince Hal, the wish may be father to the thought, but as evidence of real basis for her expectation points out that there is a noticeable growth of general public opinion in Dai Nippon in favor of the movement, while there is now appearing in all the greater industrial centers through the islands just such support from the employers of labor as played so real a role in the fast-moving prohibition drama in the United States in the early war years, or as is today showing itself throughout the United Kingdom, according to the testimonies of Sir George Paish and Alfred Shairp. That the Prince Regent of Japan frankly and unqualifiedly favors the reform is of the largest aid, of course; this alone has markedly helped in perfecting what had been till lately a serious lack of proper organization of the many, but scattered, dry forces. Their campaign, launched in Tokio's Uyeno Park last April, proved that a new and encouraging stage of the work has been reached, if only in that very power from co-ordinated effort.

Naturally, a real impetus was given the cause by the passing, on March 25, 1922, of what has been excellently called "Junior Prohibition:" an act rendering it illegal to sell alcoholic liquors to youths not twenty. For this achievement Mrs. Kubushiro declares thanks are due almost solely to Mr. Sho Nemoto, a graduate of the University of Vermont, who has labored to this end in the Diet for more than a generation. Recognising that some such "junior" plan would be the most practicable first step along the path he intended to follow through to its close, Mr. Nemoto began urging it so long ago as 1895, and brought it to a successful vote in the lower chamber of the Parliament in 1907. The Peers would have none of it, however, and have reaffirmed that reactionary position exactly fifteen times since—once a year! On this (seventeenth) attempt the support of the proposal had grown to a point where even Far Eastern ultra-standpatism could no longer ignore it: every newspaper in the land was behind the bill, public opinion overwhelmingly for it, and, not too graciously, it was passed.

If "Junior Prohibition" has encouraged Japan's drys, also has it put the wets on their guard. Propaganda is now being used to the full to set forth to all and sundry the (alleged) medicinal value of sake and biro and all the other less localised members of that "clan with a kick." Mr. Sashi, a member of the Commons, as is Mr. Nemoto, is leading a wet movement to clear away by legislation some of the more obviously objectionable features of the "Machiai," which occupy a sort of middle ground between the chartered club and the saloon of "the States" as it flourished in pre-Volstead days. The present activity in that camp is the surest of signs that real progress is being made in the other.

CASTORIA
for Infants and Children.

The Effects of Opiates.

THAT INFANTS are peculiarly susceptible to opium and its various preparations, all of which are narcotic, is well known. Even in the smallest doses, if continued, these opiates cause changes in the functions and growth of the cells, which are likely to become permanent, causing imbecility, mental perversion, a craving for alcohol or narcotics in later life. Nervous diseases such as intractable nervous dyspepsia and lack of staying power, are a result of dosing with opiates or narcotics to keep children quiet in their infancy. The rule among physicians is that children should never receive opiates in the smallest doses for more than a day at a time, and only then if unavoidable.

The administration of Anodynes, Drops, Cordials, Soothing Syrups and other narcotics to children by any but a physician cannot be too strongly decried, and the druggist should not be a party to it. Children who are ill need the attention of a physician, and it is nothing less than a crime to dose them wilfully with narcotics. Castoria contains no narcotics if it bears the signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

The signature of Chas. H. Fletcher guarantees genuine Castoria

Physicians Recommend Castoria.

"Your preparation known as Castoria I have used for years in children's complaints and I have found nothing better."
JOHN J. LEFFA, M. D., Cleveland, Ohio.

"I have prescribed your Castoria in many cases and have always found it an efficient and speedy remedy."
A. F. PESLER, M. D., St. Louis, Mo.

"For several years I recommended your 'Castoria' and shall always continue to do so, as it has invariably produced beneficial results."
EDWIN F. PARDEE, M. D., New York City.

"I have used your Castoria in my own household with good results, and have advised several patients to use it for its mild, laxative effect and freedom from harm."
EDWARD PARRISH, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Your Castoria is a meritorious household remedy. It is purely vegetable and acts as a mild cathartic. Above all, it does no harm, which is more than can be said of the great majority of children's remedies."
VICTOR H. COFFMAN, M. D., Omaha, Neb.

"Your Castoria holds the esteem of the medical profession in a manner held by no other proprietary preparation. It is a sure and reliable medicine for infants and children. In fact it is the universal household remedy for infantile ailments."
J. A. PARKER, M. D., Kansas City, Mo.

Exchange Fluctuations

Asia Banking Corporation

January 17, 1923

Spot and forward bar silver were unchanged in London yesterday. The New York price declined to 66¾ cents and the London-New York cross rate is unchanged at 466½. The only change in our official quotations here today was a rise in the Yen rate to 68¼.

Our market here today was inclined to be on the easy side, particularly for forward delivery. While some business was done at 3-1⅜ for each Sterling and 3-1 for March, there were always good buyers at these rates. At the close there were no sellers at better than 3-1¼ for cash Sterling, 3-1¼ for January delivery 3-0⅞ February and 3-0¾ for March.

The best sellers of Gold Dollars at the close were offering 72¼ January, 72¼ February and 71⅞ for forward delivery. There were sellers of Yen at the close at 67⅝ for January delivery and buyers at 67¼.

There were sellers for March at 67⅞ and buyers at 67⅝. Banks were quoting 3-2 and 74 for Sterling and Gold Dollar bills for delivery prior to China New Year and 3-1⅜ and 73⅝ for subsequent deliveries. There were buyers of Franc bills at 1090.

India bought a fair amount of silver in London yesterday and China sold. The market there is reported as steady, as is also the New York market.
